ALL COAL CONSUMERS ARE URGED TO ECONOMIZE BY FUEL ADMINISTRATION

R. Fred Brown, who was appointed by Ed H. Walker, the state fuel administrator, and who of his appointment was authorized to name two committeemen to act with him, and who on his own initiative named Sid R. Moore, who has charge of the State Bank and Trust company building, which consumes enormous quantities of coal, and Ed Kirchen, mill and surface superintendent of the Tonopah Extension, has handed The Bonanza the following notice he received from E. H. Walker, signed by Walker's secretary, W. D. Alexander:

The following letter, sent to all local fuel committees of Nevada, repeats that there is a coal shortage and that all consumers should be urged to economize. The letter follows in full:

The following is for your information, and it is suggested that you give it the fullest publicity locally: The state fuel administrator is in full charge of all matters relating to the distribution of fuel in this state, and all inquiries, complaints or other communications relating to fuel should be sent to him or his local committee. By so doing much time, which is now wasted in sending such things to Washington, will be saved and will make possible speedier investigations.

With reference to fixing the retail coal prices, an agent of the federal trade commission has been assigned to assist and has full investigatory powers. He will be here some time.

OIL SUPPLY PROBLEM UP TO GOVERNMENT

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The problem of obtaining an adequate supply of oil fuels for war purposes will be taken up by the fuel administration, it is announced, as soon as the coal situation is well in hand. Under the food act the government is authorized to license the production and distribution of oils.

The bureau of mines has just made out for the fuel administration a complete report on the production and consumption of oil during the year. It shows that while there still is a large supply reserve stock are diminishing. Consumption gradually is outstripping production and officials want to take hold of the situation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The interstate commerce commission will hold a hearing December 7 on the application of the express companies for a 10 per cent increase in rates.

STRONG WINDS.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 22.—The unusual strength of the north-west trade winds this season is being commented on by captains entering this port. The captain of a Dutch liner declared he had to buck so many strong trade winds after leaving Yokohama on a trip to this city that he had but two pounds of coal in his bunkers when he reached Honolulu. The bunkers, he stated, had been well filled at the start of the voyage, "but the trades sapped so much of the vessel's strength that the coal melted like snow before the sun."

The passengers, he said, were not aware of the possibility of the vessel being driven toward the line to wallow fuelless, foodless and with little chance of being sighted.

John Lear, formerly of Round Mountain, was the first witness for the defense in the trial of Mike Faghn on a charge of arson this afternoon. The prosecution concluded submission of testimony this morning. Lear testified as to the character of Faghn.

MRS. R. J. MAPES.
Tonopah, Nov. 21, 1917. advN2113

this week and will undoubtedly call upon you shortly.

An impression seems to prevail in certain sections that the United States fuel administrator has announced that there will be no fuel shortage. The situation is as follows:

The geological survey reports that the production of coal this year will be approximately 10 per cent greater than last. However, it is certain that because of the war consumption will also exceed that of last year. Whether or not there will be a shortage of coal during the coming winter depends upon (1) whether producers exert every effort to bring about the maximum production, and (2) whether consumers exert every effort to cut down consumption and eliminate waste of fuel.

The fuel administration is doing everything in its power to stimulate production and to bring about a fair and even distribution of the available supply. It will require the fullest co-operation on the part of both producers and consumers to avert a shortage, which would mean not only actual suffering, but serious hampering of war preparations.

You should urge upon the people of your community the utmost economy of fuel as a patriotic measure. Yours very truly,

FEDERAL FUEL ADMINISTRATION FOR NEVADA.

BAR LUXURIES.

(By Associated Press.)
HONOLULU, Hawaii, Nov. 22.—Spirits, wines and liquors, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco and candy, also automobiles used for pleasure cars, are a few of the things J. E. Child, federal food administrator for the territory of Hawaii, has classed as luxuries. Under the new embargo on luxuries these things may be barred from Hawaii for the period of the war. Value of candy imported yearly to the islands is said to be $238,000, while cigars and tobacco imports amount to half a million dollars. "If there is not a ship space to bring flour and other necessary foodstuffs to the islands," says Mr. Child, "then practically all other commodities will be considered as luxuries."

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE BUTLER.

A newspaper woman exposes food gamblers in a sensational trial. June Justice, reported on the Globe, has made a sensational arraignment of several prominent business men in New York City, charging them with vicious and unlawful "food gambling" and declaring she will produce evidence branding them as traitors to their country. Miss Justice reveals pitiful conditions in the homes of New York east siders, where, she says, the people are actually in the grip of starvation. "Pale-faced mothers seek in vain nourishment for their starving babies while a ring of the most despicable grafters traitorously plan to hold up supplies in order to reap gold. The men I consider greater traitors to our country during its time of need than the man who betrays war secrets to the enemy." This dramatic statement was made by Miss Justice before the courts. She claims that the men whom she accuses conspired to imprison her on the charge of selling dope in order that she might not expose their designs on the food market. This is the story of the new Triangle play, "The Food Gamblers," which will be the feature at the Butler. Elda Millar and Wilfred Lucas play the leads.

Also a rip roaring Keystone comedy. Monday and Tuesday the "Tanks." It's the thing you've read about in the world war; now see how it is done in British war pictures. The most vivid, startling pictorial record of the titanic struggle ever made, brought to Tonopah by the war relief fund, W. K. Vanderbilt, president.

Abandoned hastily. The Germans first retreated in dismay and are fighting desperately today to regain hold on the rear positions. About Pleasquieres the tanks engaged the heavy guns. British infantry deliberately charged the enemy artillery with rifles and hand grenades and captured guns and killed the crews.

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The war office today announced the continuation of the battle southwest of Cambrai, and that the enemy failed to break through, though he gained a little beyond the German front line. Several of the British tanks were shot to pieces.

The Germans drove the British to Anneux and Fontaine and forced them into the former positions south of Rumilly.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Andrew Bonar Law announced last evening in the house of commons that 8,000 prisoners, including 180 officers, have been taken by the British in their present operations. At one point the British penetrated five miles behind the German lines and several villages, in addition to those already announced, have been taken.
